

MARCH 16, 2026

After nearly a decade of adventures through Tulsa, Egypt, and beyond, we have some news to share: Eleventh Hour Enigma will be closing on April 12, 2026.

Our lease is coming to an end, and we're taking this opportunity to step back and plan our next chapter. Our current games will be running for the final time, and we invite you to join us for one last adventure during the remaining weeks of availability for the Cairo Connection and Winchester's Widow.

In the immediate future, our design team will be focused on travel and discovery. As we visit some of the other remarkable experiences across the world, we'll be collecting ideas and inspiration for what comes next.

For some time, we've been developing ideas for a future concept we've been calling The Society — something bigger, deeper, and more immersive than anything we've built before. During this pause, we'll be building partnerships and gathering resources toward something that could put Tulsa on the map as a destination for immersive entertainment.

To our guests — thank you. We are deeply grateful to have shared so many memorable moments with you. And to our staff, collaborators, and the escape room community who helped us build this first chapter — your passion and dedication made it truly special.

We'll share updates throughout our journey, and our community will be the first to know what comes next. If you'd like to connect, collaborate, or just say hello, we'd love to hear from you. Until then, thank you for being part of the adventure.

This chapter may be ending...but the story isn't over.

With gratitude,

Mel and Darby
